Bio

Dominic was born and raised round the northern regions of Germany. Inherently enamored by the rattles of music he got seduced to create music on his own at the tender age of 16. By dint of two turntables he began to scratch and to ably recombine funk and hip hop.

Not long to wait for Dominic to get his first experiences in front of an audience: at first there were private events where he could give a proof of his skills. Imbued by the nightlife of large cities like Hamburg or Berlin Dominic's style evolved more and more to a completely individual sound which covers many facets of house and techno.

Being 19, Dominic and friends started to organize events on their own account in Kiel. Later Dominic began to play in clubs all around the North of Germany, but the future is yet to come and so he has already loads of bookings far beyond the North. He is esteemed for his minimalistic style and his detail-loving manner. He settled in Berlin years ago, there he successfully finished his studies and became an electronic music producer.
